

Are Properties Graded?

No! This website is purely a market place for owners to advertise their properties to you and other potential renters. We are unable to check properties and the quality of individual accommodation.

What we do expect is that all owners are honest when describing and marketing their property and that what they have written is true to the best of their knowledge. If you do not find this to be the case please let us know and we will investigate the particular property advertisement or agent in question.
